ROPARDO Introduces New Services to Digitalize Business Processes

ROPARDO - the leading nearshore competent partner from Romania, Sibiu, East Europe, will present new application-related services at CeBIT 2015 (March 16th-20th) in Hannover, Germany.

With a fast pace of the industrial evolution, software development is the key to change the business model through a digitization of every day work and personal activities. Big Data, cloud computing, mobile access and social and security issues are increasingly interrelated and have major impact on business and society to keep them simple.

Keep IT simple is also the core meaning we give to our expertise and we take it to new heights by bringing out vitalized nearshore software development and server maintenance. We are a strong and dynamic enterprise with emphasis on the development of IT solutions with the newest technologies for complex business procedures.

On this occasion, we introduce digitalized solutions with applicability in Sales Force Automation, Tourism, Health&Fitness and Automotive integrated with full-cycle services. Our offering of innovative services is meant to help businesses decrease their costs, while improving their processes.

"We find the 2015 CeBIT event, organized under the idea of digital transformation of life and society, is a good opportunity for us to showcase revolutionary products developed by our team for the benefit of businesses in a large area of industries!" says Ciprian Candea, CEO of ROPARDO.
